Salvos Stores staff and volunteers raise money for valuable Salvation Army programs

February 1st marked an important day on the calendar of the staff and volunteers at Salvos Stores. It was the launch of our exciting relay between stores & support offices across the Australian Southern Territory in order to raise money for Salvation Army projects nominated by staff members. The torch has now been passed around Tasmania and is currently making its way across Victoria.

Each store is aiming to raise as much funds as possible for these projects before passing on the torch to the next store. This will continue across all stores & support offices at Salvos Stores Australian Southern Territory – that's 211 stores and 7 support office teams! What's more, some of our Regional Management team will be conducting a sponsored walk from Salvos Stores Grovedale, Victoria to Salvos Stores Mount Gambier, South Australia to pass the torch between states.

This fantastic team building project will see Salvos Stores raise $150,000 through their fantastic staff and volunteers for these staff nominated Salvation Army programs.

"Our staff and volunteers go above and beyond to raise funds for staff nominated Salvation Army projects every year. This year we have already seen some fantastic fundraising ideas and this is sure to continue as the torch passes between teams" – Aife O'Loughlin, Marketing Co-Ordinator Salvos Stores.
